THE COURSE

Tumble Brook Country Club — located in Bloomfield, Connecticut, just 15 minutes from Hartford — is a beautifully conditioned course in a peaceful and relaxing setting. Tumble Brook Country Club was named for the brook, which flows through the Club property. It was incorporated and organized in October 1922, and was largely an outgrowth of an in-town social group known as the Touro Club.

In 2002 the Club began a renovation program for the golf course. Mark McCumber and Associates was the architects for the golf course renovations. In 2005 the golf course renovation was completed. Today the Club is magnificent.

So many great rounds of golf played in the Club's first century! From the moment you arrive, the friendly and professional staff will provide a private club experience to annual pass-holders and guests alike, at a surprisingly affordable price.
